Boca Raton, FL --- Multi-Media Productions (USA), Inc. is pleased to announce that Duggan Manufacturing will be featured on 21st Century Business.

In less than a decade Duggan Manufacturing has become a major force in the sheet metal prototype industry. The company has grown in this short but dynamic time from two visionaries with a dream to a resourceful and task-oriented team of professionals; skillfully and successfully serving a wide range of industries — aerospace, defense, automotive and alternative energy — with needs for custom metal components. This phenomenal growth has been attained by continuously reinvesting in their equipment, facilities and people.

Duggan Manufacturing is a total turnkey service supplier. They produce high precision, high quality products. They use the best tools and equipment for the job and their personnel have years of experience. The company preserves the productive traditions that still work, and embrace the newest technologies; including robotic laser welding.

Duggan Manufacturing takes the time to understand each customer's business and needs. Their customers now count on them to collaborate with them from the start of a project to deliver a total solution that can save time and money over the course of the job. They also have an "open door" policy where every customer is welcome to come in and check on a project's progress.
